AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC

Subsidiary of

GENERAL TELEPHONE & ELECTRONICS

Factory, development laboratories, and general office at Northlake, Illinois, U.S.A.

AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC COMPANY is an organization of designing, engineering, and manufacturing specialists in the fields of communication, electrical control, and allied arts. For more than sixty years the company has been known throughout the world as the originator and parent manufacturer of the Strowger Automatic Telephone System. Today Strowger-type equipment serves over 75% of the world's automatic telephones. The same experience and technique that have grown out of the work of Automatic Electric engineers in the field of telephone communication are also being successfully applied on an ever-increasing scale to the solution of electrical control problems in business and industry.

PRINCIPAL PRODUCTS

Strowger Automatic Telephone Systems—Complete automatic central-office equipment for exchange areas of any size, from small towns to the largest metropolitan networks.

Community Automatic Exchanges—Unattended automatic units for small rural or suburban areas, with facilities for switching into attended exchanges.

Automatic Toll Boards—An adaptation of Strowger principles to toll-switching, resulting in simplification of operators' equipment and greater economy of operating and toll-circuit time.

Private Automatic Exchanges—Available in various capacities, with or without central-office connections, and with facilities for special control services to meet the needs of the user.

P.B.X. Switchboards—A complete range of cordless and cord types for the modern business.

Telephone Instruments—Modern designs for automatic or manual exchanges, including the Monophone—the world's most attractive and efficient handset telephone.

Exchange Accessory Equipment—Auxiliary exchange and substation equipment, including manual desks, testing apparatus, transmission equipment, and all accessories needed for the operation and maintenance of the modern telephone exchange.

Makers also of electrical control apparatus for industrial, engineering, and public utility companies, telephone apparatus for railroads and pipe-line companies, private telephone systems of all types, electrical and communication devices for aircraft and airways control, and special communication apparatus for military and naval departments.

FOREWORD

This bulletin is an up-to-date listing, with descriptions and functions, of the principal tools most useful in the maintenance of central-office equipment and telephones manufactured by Automatic Electric Company.

In addition to tools such as screwdrivers, pliers, and soldering irons, the listing includes a wide variety of special tools and gauges which serve particular purposes in the maintenance of specific items of apparatus, as well as such devices as resistance boxes, test sets, and the like. So far as practicable, the various tool illustrations are grouped in classifications according to use.

The tool descriptions show, in addition to the illustrations, the name of the tool, its code number, and the use to which it is put. Included also is supplementary information such as precautions to be taken and dimensions which affect tool use.

All tools listed are indexed alphabetically in the front of the bulletin and numerically in the back. Distributing-frame test plugs and cord assemblies have not been listed numerically but have been collected and put in tabular form.

In some cases, two or more tools may be listed under the same name. An example is the "Adjuster, Vertical Armature" having code numbers H-7056, H-13398, and H-13700. Unless otherwise identified, it is suggested that the tool with the highest code number be ordered. This tool is ordinarily associated with the latest type of equipment. The lower-numbered tools may be better suited for older types of equipment or may be preferred by service personnel.

Customers in the United States or possessions may obtain any of the tools listed through the Automatic Electric Sales Corporation, Northlake, Illinois, U.S.A. Orders from customers abroad should be placed with Automatic Electric International, Inc., at the same address.
